

Integra LifeSciences Announces Contract With MedAssets Supply Chain Systems, LLC.

PLAINSBORO, N.J., May 23, 2007 (PrimeNewswire via COMTEX News Network) -- Integra LifeSciences Holding Corporation (Nasdaq:IART) announced today that its Jarit Surgical Instruments subsidiary has signed a three-year contract to supply Jarit (R) surgical and laparoscopic instruments to members of MedAssets Supply Chain Systems, LLC., one of the largest healthcare alliances in the United States. Jarit, a world leader in high quality surgical instruments for use in both traditional and minimally invasive surgery, was chosen both for the quality and value of its instrument offering and its outstanding customer service.

"We are very excited that MedAssets Supply Chain Systems, LLC. has selected Jarit as a contracted supplier of surgical instruments," said Rob Rogowski, President, Jarit Surgical Instruments. "Our long standing contractual relationship with MedAssets Supply Chain Systems, LLC. reflects their confidence in our commitment to providing their members with the highest quality products and service."

Jarit's instruments are used in virtually all surgical disciplines (including neurosurgery, orthopedics, general surgery, plastic and reconstructive surgery, ear nose and throat, cardiovascular, obstetrics and gynecology, and ophthalmics) at more than 5,200 hospitals and surgery centers worldwide. Jarit sells products in the United States through a twenty-person sales management team that works with over 100 distributor sales representatives nationwide. Jarit maintains the industry's most comprehensive inventory to insure complete and timely delivery. With over 9,000 instrument patterns in a growing catalog, Jarit can provide instruments quickly and economically. In its facility in Tuttlingen, Germany, Jarit's staff manages supplier control, testing and quality system standards, which are ISO 13485: 2003 certified, and works directly with outstanding instrument craftsmen to coordinate design, production and delivery.
